1. INTRODUCTION

New legislation has been enacted called the Promotion of Access to Information Act, 2 of 2000 ("the Act"). The purpose of this legislation is to address Section 32(2) of the Constitution, which provides that any person has a right to gain access to any information held by a public or private body. If the record is requested from a private body the requester needs to prove that the record is required for the exercise or protection of a right.

One of the main requirements specified in the Act is the compilation of a manual that provides information on both the types and categories of records held by the public or private body. In terms of the Act, a private body includes any former or existing juristic person.

This document serves as the Information Manual in terms of the above-mentioned Act, to provide a reference as to the records held and the process that needs to be followed to request access to such records.
